RESOURCE TYPES & FORMATS

Resource types:
Books (monographs) or chapters in books
Reference works (e.g. dictionaries, encyclopedias, handbooks, glossaries, etc.)
Journal articles (e.g. review articles)
Dissertations and theses

Formats:
Physical books; electronic books
Physical journal articles; electronic journal articles
DVDs, CDs, language courses, sound recordings, etc.
PRIMARY, SECONDARY & TERTIARY SOURCES:

• Primary: original information; e.g. correspondence, data, diaries, empirical studies, technical reports, dissertations and theses, works of art or literature. In literary study, primary works are often novels, plays, poems, short stories, etc.

• Secondary: analyzes, comments on or provides criticism on primary information, e.g. bibliographies, commentaries, monographs, review articles and editorials, scholarly journal articles, textbooks, works of criticism and interpretation. This is where research is reported.

• Tertiary: interprets secondary information, e.g. reference books, such as dictionaries, encyclopedias, and glossaries. Use for background information.

[E.g.: Dictionary of concepts in literary criticism and theory / Wendell V Harris N 801 HARRIS]

- Reference sources: overview of topic e.g. encyclopedias, in print or electronic.
- Books: analysis of topic, in-depth background information.
- Journal articles: focus on specific subject.
- Grey literature: governments, organizations, think tanks – not publishers.
- Web pages: e.g. government webpages such as gov.za.
LOCATIONS & COLLECTIONS

• LEVEL 6: Literature & Language, Folklore, History, Arts, Drama, Archaeology, Anthropology, Sport

• LEVEL 1: Philosophy, Psychology, Sociology, Social Work, Theology, Ancient Languages (Greek, Semitic Languages, Latin)

• Collections:
  • Open Collection: floors 1, 2, 5 and 6 to borrow from
  • Other collections:
    • GV (Study) Collection – 2 hours at a time
    • Reference collection (N) – copies/scans only
    • Journals - copies/scans only
    • Special Collections (Africana: ZA) - use in Africana section only
    • Less-Used (Rare) Collections – ask librarian for item

Worldcat Discovery Search basics:

- Identify your concepts.
- Identify possible search terms, even phrases in "".
- Come up with synonyms for each search term.

- Build a search strategy using the ADVANCED SEARCH box, combine with AND, OR and NOT.

- Results will be books, articles, chapters, etc., from Libraries Worldwide, so, use FILTERING to reduce search results.

- Study subject headings of records that look promising, as they can provide more search terms.

- Mark relevant records and email to yourself.
- Always give your emailed search results a proper subject line, so you keep track of what you’ve done.

Use pen and paper!
Combine terms with AND, OR or NOT. Change filters as required. Choose filters at bottom of page. Search.

E-resources overview

The UP Library provides our clients with online access to 414 bibliographic databases, 469 327 e-books (213 734 print) and 73 481 electronic journals covering all subject areas.

Of the 321 databases, 231 are available on the Internet from your office, home, as well as from anywhere in the world. A registered student or lecturer at the University of Pretoria has access to 89 databases available on-campus on the University Library's CD-ROM menu which should be available on the desktop of any computer.

These databases are very important for academic and non-academic use. They provide a wide range of information and are useful for both research and teaching.

To access these databases, you will be prompted for a Username (Student/Personnel number) and a PIN.

Search Tips

• Identify Concepts.
• Brainstorm, write down search terms and synonyms.
• Combine using AND = fewer, focused results; OR = more results including synonyms, and NOT = excludes facets.
• Browse Thesaurus, Index or Glossary
• British/American spelling, plurals - use* ? #. Consult the Help function.
• When you find a good result, open its record to check its subject terms/descriptors, and consider using these.
Choose View by subject, then Literature & Language databases

(Remember, this is a cross-database search. If you click on Databases* and read the descriptions, you may also choose to do a single database search.)

A Dictionary of Critical Theory

Ian Buchanan

This is the most wide-ranging and up-to-date dictionary of critical theory available, covering the whole range of critical theory, including the Frankfurt school, cultural materialism, gender studies, literary theory, hermeneutics, historical materialism, and sociopolitical critical theory. Entries clearly explain even the most complex of theoretical discourses, such as Marxism, psychoanalysis, structuralism, deconstruction, and postmodernism. There are also biographies of important figures in the field, with feature entries for those who have heavily influenced areas of the discipline. ... More

The Oxford Dictionary of Literary Terms (4 ed.)

Chris Baldick
