WHAT IS WORLDCAT DISCOVERY?

- WorldCat Discovery lets you find everything you need with one simple search interface
- It’s a way to locate books, theses, articles, journals, videos and other items of interest in your library or other libraries
- Through WorldCat you have access to specialized databases such as ScienceDirect, SAePublications etc.
- Searches in WorldCat Discovery produce direct links to articles, e-books and other resources
- To access these resources, when working off-campus, you will be required to log in, using your portal detail, to link to full text
Search for a journal, book or other resource in the UP Catalogue
WorldCat Discovery search

From the library website, go to Search – “Catalogue” or “WorldCat Discovery”

... Or use the search block at the bottom of the screen
Enter your search term/s in the search block and click on “Search”
The number of results in "Libraries worldwide" is 2,834. Limit results to "University of Pretoria".
The number of results in UP Libraries: 1,079
The results include different formats to which you can limit, e.g. print books, e-books, journals, journal articles, theses, DVD’s etc. in all UP libraries.
You can limit to a specific library, but remember branch scoping only retrieves physical items in that library. Items that are in electronic format only won’t be included in the results.
Results can also be limited to specific years, language, author or topic.
